Progressive candidates generally advocate for bold reforms addressing systemic inequalities and environmental sustainability.

Los Angeles Mayoral Race

The mayoral election is one of the most closely watched contests in Los Angeles. Progressive candidates in this race have emphasized expanding affordable housing, strengthening tenant protections, and accelerating green infrastructure projects. They also focus on reforming police oversight and investing in community-based public safety alternatives. Voters are

Other Local Offices

Beyond the mayor and city council, progressive candidates are also running for offices such as the school board, county supervisors, and district attorney.
